With ITAR Registration Fees Likely to Increase, Here's An Overview of The Registration Process

May 9, 2024 | DDTC, Export Controls, ITAR

In April 2024, the U.S. State Department published a proposal to increase the fees for DDTC registration and renewal. It's the first proposed increase in 16 years, and although it could be months before a final decision is made, it's reasonable to assume an increase of some kind will be approved.

For some entities, the cost of any such increase will be negligible. But for others, it will be substantial.

Any business or individual in the U.S. who manufactures, exports or temporarily imports defense articles or defense services subject to the ITAR is required to register every year with the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC). According to the State Department, DDTC receives about 38,000 export license applications a year from the roughly 14,000 registered entities. Here's a look at the current and proposed fees.

According to the proposal, "The [State] Department has concluded that Tier 3 registrants have benefited the most from DDTC's improvements, specifically DECCS and customer service improvements, they are best positioned to contribute from their export-derived revenue to continue and improve DDTC's services. Because these improvements would primarily benefit Tier 3 registrants, it is those registrants that will be asked to contribute more."

The proposal is subject to a public comment period, ending June 10, 2024.

Consideration may be given to comments received later but is not guaranteed.

Comments are accepted two ways:

- Email: DDTCCPublicComments@state.gov. Include the subject line: Registration Fees-RIN 1400-AF78
- Federal eRulemaking Portal: <http://www.regulations.gov>. Identify by the Department docket number DOS-2023-0034 or RIN 1400-AF78. Follow the instructions for sending comments.
